in scission tim winton s first collection of short stories the world he paints is often harsh and disturbing inhabited by isolated unforgiving characters it is a world at once familiar filled with the trappings of home and family and yet also strangely twisted a world where casual brutality and unexpected death are never far from the surface evident in a young girl s violent temper once the eggs she has so jealously guarded finally hatch or in the careless indifference of the woman stepping over a soldier s spreadeagled body tim winton s world is a place where dysfunction and disorder constantly threaten the equilibrium but there is compassion and beauty there too whether it s in the brush of a father s hand against his young son s cheek or the neighbours who wait patiently to celebrate the arrival of a new baby tim winton is the real thing a writer who can photograph a thought and pluck out the beat of a soul on a washing line scotland on sunday

what is most strikingly new about the transcultural is its sudden ubiquity following in the wake of previous concepts in cultural and literary studies such as creolization hybridity and syncretism and signalling a family relationship to terms such as transnationality translocality and transmigration transcultural terminology has unobtrusively but powerfully edged its way into contemporary theoretical and critical discourse the four sections of this volume denote major areas where transcultural questions and problematics have come to the fore theories of culture and literature that have sought to account for the complexity of culture in a world increasingly characterized by globalization transnationalization and interdependence realities of individual and collective life worlds shaped by the ubiquity of phenomena and experiences relating to transnational connections and the blurring of cultural boundaries fictions in literature and other media that explore these realities negotiate the fuzzy edges of ethnic or national cultures and participate in the creation of transnational public spheres as well as transcultural imaginations and memories and finally pedagogy and didactics where earlier models of teaching other cultures are faced with the challenge of coming to terms with cultural complexity both in what is being taught and in the people it is taught to and where target cultures have become elusive the idea of locating culture and literature exclusively in the context of ethnicities or nations is rapidly losing plausibility throughout an english speaking world that has long since been multi rather than monolingual exploring the prospects and contours of transcultural english studies thus reflects a set of common challenges and predicaments that in recent years have increasingly moved centre stage not only in the new literatures in english but also in british and american studies
